

SACRIFICIAL

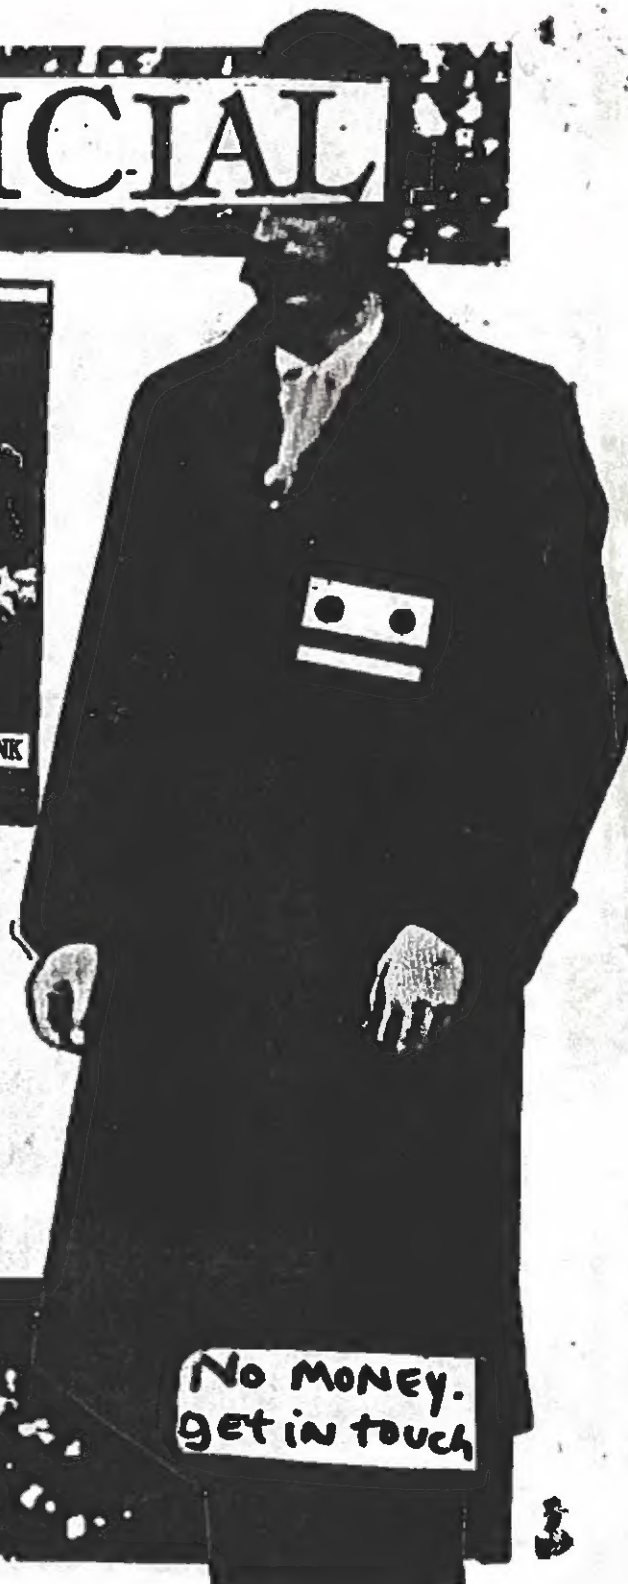

Police are investigating a case of criminal damaging after a Woodside resident reported Sunday that his neighbor's mailbox was blown up. The man said he saw vehicles leaving the area as he looked out his window. While police were unable to locate any vehicles in the area, they did find what was described as an explosive device in a two-liter soda bottle. The bottle was returned to the department as evidence.

A Short Reply To A Long Question

Straight-edge is standing around with black X's on your hand while the names of every dedicated member of your glorious straight-edge make a change for the better movement who have turned their backs on you burns a path through your eyes that alot of them once said they couldn't close. The point is that you and every other kid who believed them ate their garbage and thought it tasted like some pot bellied, beer stinking asshole, who you've never seen before tell you that he used to be straight-edge back in the days, and you have never seen him before and you look around to see if he's actually talking to you and if he thinks you care.

And that's just the good part.

Straight-edge is waiting over a year for a Judge record that was never pressed and getting letters in the mail from fourteen year old kids telling you to be positive. It's watching your one year ago dedicated friends stumbling drunk outside of some club as they talk behind your back. Straight-edge is minding your own business and having afraid of them, joining their posse. Straight-edge is the cashier at Convenient asking you what the X's on your hands mean and rolling up her eyes in disbelief when you tell her it's where the treasure's buried. Straight-edge is standing around at Agnostic Front shows while idiots in red suspenders seig heil Craig Setari (Ahead?...forget it).

Straight-edge is not positive.

first of all, for the most part i don't like mykel board's columns each month. i think that he is redundant, and boring, and most of his columns are just beating a dead horse. while there are some things he says that i agree with, most of them i do not, and get tired of hearing about the same thing again and again. and due to my lifestyle, and how it is not similar to his own, many of his points are lost on me. however in issue #117, his main focus was the RIOT GRRLS and their ideology. now i have only met two grrls who are involved with this group, and neither has written me back, i'm not going to pretend to speak for them or even pretend that i'm in any way in support or against them. but they seem like a worthwhile group that is interested in change, something i think is necessary. in boards column he equated a man supporting the kkk, and to

WHY SHOULD WE BELIEVE YOU, EVERYTHING I HAVE BEEN TOLD IS A LIE. "THE GOVERNMENT HAS YOUR BEST INTERESTS IN MIND." "WE ARE ONLY DOING THIS BECAUSE WE LOVE YOU ." NOTHING IS HEALTHY. EVERYTHING WE COULD EAT, DRINK, BREATHE, OR FUCK IS CANCEROUS, AND/OR DEADLY. WHY SHOULD I CARE WHEN THERE IS NOTHING FOR ME TO DO, AND NOTHING LEFT FOR ME? WHY SHOULD I TRUST THE GOVERNMENT WHEN IT WILL NOT CURE A DISEASE BECAUSE OF MY SEXUAL ORIENTATION, IT SELLS ME DRUGS BECAUSE OF MY COLOR, AND SENDS ME TO WAR TO FIGHT "THE GOOD FIGHT." one issue ago i stated in my intro that much of what was written may be difficult to understand. mostly i wrote that as a catch-all phase to justify anything stupid i may have decided to put in, and was not cohesive. however i did not think that anything i had included in issue 2 was that incoherent. but the response charged me with such crimes of confusion. so this time i have made a concerted effort to make things more understandable, but i can not speak for the other writers. however keep in mind so things are left up to your own interpretation. unclearly this is movement no. three windpipe make me itch all over, and fenceclimber zine is god.β

Why i did not vote,so get off my back.

the single reason
most pressed on
me to cause guilt
for my lack off
excitment in the
voting process
is that women may
have lost the right
to legal abortions.
first i will state

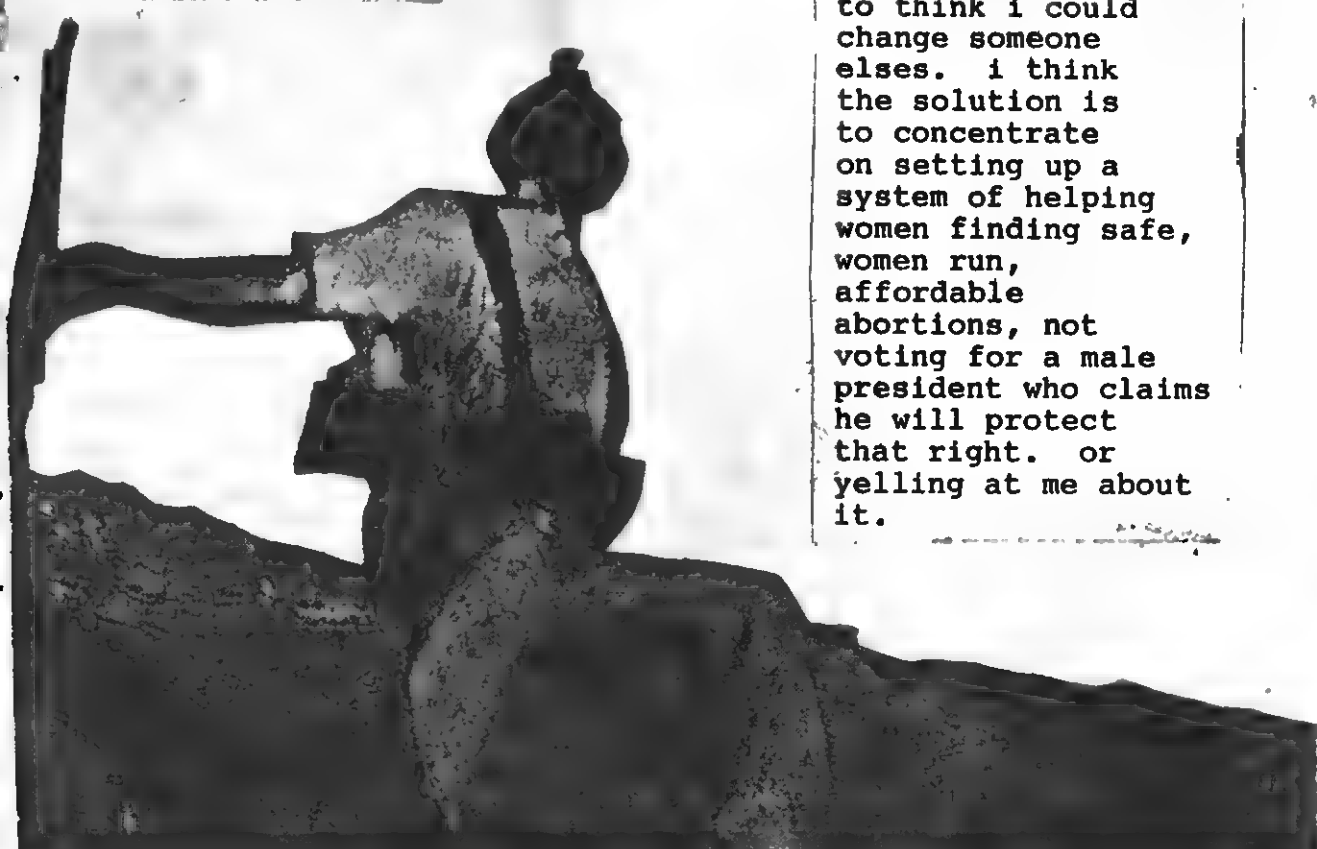

i am. and the
impression i got
from the femminist
viewpoint (which
is the one that
i agree with) is
that it is necessary
to get the control
of abortions out
of the hands of

this also pertains
to members of the
medical profession.
i also read a flyer
handed to me at
a BIKINI KILL show
explaining methods
of safe home
abortions. and
it seems to me
that why even bother
to argue with people
who feel just as
strongly as you
do, but the
opposite. i know
there is little
chance of me
changing my mind,
i do not pretend

that i fully support
womens right to
an abortion.
therefore i read
material from all
points of view
like the little
library fuck that

rich white men.
while this is an
obvious illusion
to the current
political system,

to think i could
change someone
elses. i think
the solution is
to concentrate
on setting up a
system of helping
women finding safe,
women run,
affordable
abortions, not
voting for a male
president who claims
he will protect
that right. or
yelling at me about
it.

regardless, i think that boards method of disagreeing amounts to nothing more than narrow-mindedness and ignorance. i'm sure he knows as well as i do that more involvement by anyone, male or female can only be helpful to the "scene".
but boards statements
effectively condemn the movement as a whole as destructive. while i don't agree with all of the actions of the riot grrls, i still believe that they add more than they take away. why must it be reduced to playing stupid word games.
i thought the punk ethic was not to hide behind and use sound bite, stereotype, over generalizations. while boards column tends to just perpetuate these ideas.
